

Two Nordic colleagues honored on the Ophthalmologist's

Power List for 2021

Christina Lindén

Miriam Kolko

This year's Power List presented the most influential female figures in ophthalmology, nominated by the readers of the Ophthalmologist and whittled down by an international panel of judges to the final 100. We are proud to present two Nordic colleagues on the Power List: Professors Christina Lindén at the Department of Ophthalmology, Norrlands University Hospital, University of Umeå, Sweden and Miriam Kolko at the Department of Ophthalmology, Copenhagen University Hospital. Congratulations!

BAYER

"With EyePod you get the latest cutting-edge developments in ophthalmology, whenever it suits you"

Did you know that you can listen to interesting interviews with world-class experts in ophthalmology at any time and from any device?

EyePod Bayer is a product-neutral podcast, open to everyone with a passion for ophthalmology. Topics include anything from the anterior to the posterior segment. We also provide updates from congresses and meetings and latest, cutting edge developments. EyePod has been made possible thanks to the contributions by our distinguished guests.

EyePod episodes are product-neutral and produced by the medical department of Bayer Ophthalmology in Scandinavia, in either Swedish or English. New and interesting sessions are released twice per month and are available on Spotify, Acast, and iTunes.

"As market leaders in treating retinal diseases, our aim is to be committed to ophthalmology and give back to the community"
